ORGANIZE COMPANY TO BUILD UP CLOWVILLE

Would Provide Plenty of Homes for Workmen
Local Business Men Start Immense Project, Which Looks Like Splendid Solution for Clowville Addition Problem

Following the statement made by President W. E. Clow of J. B. Clow & Sons, appearing in Thursday's Tribune to the effect that there are no available homes for the new employees the company expects to use in the local plant, a movement is on foot among some of Coshocton's best known business men to form a really company for the purpose of building up and improving the Clowville addition.

According to present arrangements the company, which will be known as the "South Side Improvement Co." will give every lot owner in the Clow addition a chance to take stock to the amount of the property he owns or to give the company an option upon the lots.

It is claimed that the company could easily be formed in one day but the success of the project depends entirely upon whether the property owners enter into the spirit of the affair and do the proper things.

Should Pull Together

One man who is pushing the plan stated to The Tribune that if any of the lot owners wait for the company to make improvements without taking stock, in the hope that the improvements would increase the value of his property without any effort on the part of the individual, the project could not be successful.

It is planned to call a meeting of all the lot owners and organize the company at once. As soon as the weather permits actual work will be started.

Walks and Trees

Cement walks will be put down and hundreds of shade trees planted. Building the houses will be commenced immediately and every effort made to build up the addition, thus providing plenty of homes for all the men and their families, the Clow company would bring here.

It will require a large amount of money to make the improvements but when they are made it will be up to the Clow Co. to fulfill its part of the agreement as to the number of men to be employed at its Coshocton plant.

Pres. Clow, Take Notice

Snyder and Seiff, real estate dealers have prepared a list of residences and apartments in this city, which are vacant at the present time. The list includes 57 available homes located in all parts of the city with the rent ranging from six dollars to thirty dollars per month.

Again Plan Big Boxing Exhibition

An effort will be made to arrange for a big boxing exhibition in this city in the near future. It will be remembered that the fight which was scheduled for New Year's night was called off and until Wednesday nothing had been done to promote another.

However, it is understood that promoters are circulating a petition among the business men. A bout will be arranged between two well known Ohio pugilists. A special effort will be made to have a number of fast preliminaries by local talent.

Too Much Rain; Mine Shut Down

On account of the recent heavy rains the Locust Grove coal mine south of this city was closed Thursday. The water has filled the entries to the mine making work impossible.

Armed With Ax, Threatens Family

Sheriff Gets Usual Hurry-up Call to Clowville vicinity-William Lynn Brought to Jail

Clowville house is said to have been responsible for another hurry call received by the sheriff from that section Thursday night. As a result, William Lynn, aged about 56, a coal miner, was landed behind the bars at the county jail, where he was given an opportunity to "think it over" during the night.

According to members of Lynn's family, he returned home Thursday evening after enjoying a session at one of the Clowville saloons. Evidently the brand of refreshments indulged in was not conducive to a sweet temper for Lynn was said to have become so peevish that he armed himself with an ax and threatened to drive his family from the house.

Placed Under Arrest

The Lynn family lives in a house on the back farm, just south of Randles bridge. A son operates a country mine on the Hahn farm near Rock Cut and Lynn is employed there. When the trouble was reported, Sheriff Pharrion and Deputy McDonald hurried to the home. They found that the disturbance had somewhat subsided but placed Lynn under arrest and brought him to the jail with them.

School Grounds Flooded

The heavy rains caused the Sycamore school grounds to be flooded Thursday and the children were forced to wade through the water to reach the building. The pupils were at once excused and sent to their homes for dry clothing to prevent any illness that might result. After the noon hour, school was resumed.

More Boys for Corn Special

At least 75 boys will be sent on free trips to Washington next year in the corn-growing contests, which will be conducted by the state board of agriculture. This number was guaranteed at Columbus at the annual meeting of the Ohio Fair Boys' associations. Members of a seventy-four counties were present, and each pledged at least one trip. A prize of 25 trips for an equal number of prize winners.

Building Falls; Many Lives Lost

McKinney, Tex., Jan. 23.—Boys gave way and the floors and roof crashed down, burying hundreds in the ruins. Fire soon broke out and the flames did much to hamper the efforts of the rescuers, who worked hard and were saving many lives. Most of the victims were women and children and at a late hour tonight, only about a dozen bodies had been recovered.

A special bargain sale was in progress and the store crowded when, without any warning, the

BOARD OF TRADE OPPOSES GREEN ANTI-SCREEN BILL

Resolutions Adopted Against Measure

At a called meeting of the Coshocton board of trade held Thursday afternoon, resolutions, opposing the passage of the Green anti-screen coal bill at the present session of the state legislature, were adopted. The resolutions also provide that the board request and urge Representative D. M. Criswell of Coshocton county and Senator William Green (author of the bill) to use their influence and vote against the measure.

The resolutions were drawn up by George S. Caton, chairman, L. E. Baughman and T. L. Montgomery. The meeting was presided over by Vice President H. R. McCurdy and the following coal operators were present: David Davis, C. L. Cassingham, H. E. Dennis, R. N. Barnes, C. F. Barnes and R. H. Mills. A joint meeting of the board and the Business Men's association will be held shortly to take similar action.

Petition in Bankruptcy by Chaney

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the U. S. District court at Columbus Thursday by Samuel F. Chaney, the West Carlisle merchant. The petition was prepared by Attorney W. S. Merrell.

In the petition, Mr. Chaney sets forth liabilities amounting to $12,670.56, while his assets are only $2,472.09. The bankruptcy proceedings follow an attachment suit brought in common pleas court last week by W. W. Steffee.

MULE'S KICK PROVES FATAL

Marion, O., Jan. 23.—An investigation into the sudden death of Ira Slocum, aged 35, was ended today when it was learned that Slocum died from a kick of a mule which crushed his skull. Slocum's body was found in a barn this morning and the condition of the head caused a suspicion that he had been murdered.

President Taft Has Traveled Far While in Office

Washington, Jan. 23.—When President Taft stepped down from his private car on his recent return from New Haven, the total mileage of his travels during his four years in the White House reached 113,659—enough to have taken him four and one-half times around the world, or an average of about 75 miles for every day he has been president. The total is exclusive of the hundreds of miles the president has traveled by motor in every part of the country; his trips through Ohio and his tours about Washington and in the vicinity of Beverly.

Including the automobile trips and three short journeys to be taken by March 4, Mr. Taft will have traveled during his term about 165,000 miles, or five times the distance around the earth at the equator.

Finds Tact Necessary to Hear "Billy" Sunday

In order to obtain a seat at one of the Sunday revival meetings, which are being held in Columbus, a well known local business man is said to have masqueraded as a country minister while his wife was allowed to enter the tabernacle as the wife of an usher. Many reservations are made for different classes and all of the seats not reserved are filled long before the time for opening the

Would Close Mines
After a discussion of the matter in detail, it was agreed by members of the board that the fears of the coal operators to the effect that the passage of the Green bill would work irreparable injury not only to the coal industry of Coshocton county but also to every other industrial interest, thus being a blow to the general prosperity of the county, including the members of the miners' fraternity and their families.

Are Well Founded
To give one an idea of the magnitude of the coal industry in Coshocton county, it was pointed out that the annual mine payrolls amount to fully three-quarters of a million dollars. The operators present showed the members of the board that if they are compelled to comply with the provisions of the proposed anti-screen law, it will be impossible for the Ohio mines to compete with the

Has Finger Crushed in Die Press

While operating a dye press at the Beach plant Thursday afternoon, David Davis was badly cut on the middle finger of his right hand. The end of the finger was severed at the nail when the member became caught under the heavy dye. The injury was given medical attention. No serious results are anticipated.

Inmates of Zoo Imagine That Spring Has Come

New York, Jan. 23.—Although it is not spring, "when fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love," Keeper Snyder of the Central Park menagerie, is being kept busy because the animals in his charge think it is. As an evidence of their belief because of the biting weather, there is belling and cooing in the aviary; bleating in the sheep fold and fighting in the deer and bison enclosures. The swans and the Japanese geese are making nests and the stork is hovering over the sheet. All day yesterday Snyder was either making peace in the enclosures of the four-footed animals or endeavoring to discover nests of his feathered charges so that he could break them up.

"After an all night session with the boys a husband weeded his way home, arriving there at about 5 a. m. He found his wife waiting for him in the dining room, the confusion of furniture indicating that she had been having an unhappy time.

"This is a nice time for you to be coming home!" snapped the wife.
"Yes," admitted the erring husband; "it's a lovely morning."
"I haven't slept a wink this blessed night!" with a severe look.
"Neither have I," said the husband.

New York, Jan. 22.—Howard Gould has been served with notice to defend a legal action brought against him by Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould, the wife who obtained a legal separation from him with annual alimony of $30,000. Mrs. Gould is suing to recover $2,000 from her husband. This amount she says represents a bill she paid to a millinery company and which she declares should have been paid by her husband.

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT

successful in European cities are in effect those principles embodied in the commission form of government now in effect with various adaptations in numerous American cities. This new arrangement of an old and trusted way of managing a city's affairs is indeed a radical departure from the old Federal form of government that it unites the powers of the administration results in economy and efficiency and in a quickening in civic interest and patriotism.

What It Will Do

In brief, commission government will:
1. Concentrate all the power in one organization, doing away with the old division of power and forcing the responsibility on a few who can not shift it to substitutes.
2. Substitute a business government for a political one.
3. Place the power in public hands.

partisan politics.

(5) Set a high standard of civic efficiency.

(6) Increase the power of the individual rather than that of the official.

(7) Destroy old ward lines.

(8) Realize the benefit of the short ballot and worth officials.

(9) Centralize the power: a point which is not objectionable on account of the use of the referendum and recall.

(10) Correct the errors of the Federal government plan vesting the power in a few instead of the many—and these are responsible to the people instead of to each other.

In Commercial World

Mr. Sears said that we have no parallel to our Federal municipal government in our commercial world and it is a plan of control is not feasible here why should it be elsewhere?

The logical and thoroughly interesting presentation of the subject called forth numerous practical questions from the interested Coshocton citizens and the remainder of the evening following the address was devoted to a discussion of the commission form of government as a possibility of Coshocton.

The Daily Tribune

Independent Morning Daily

Entered as second-class mail matter at the postoffice at Coshocton, Ohio, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

"RUBBING IT IN"

If the experience which the people of this city and county have had for the last month with the flooded condition of the Tuscarawas and Walhonding rivers has not set them to thinking, nothing will.

For three consecutive Saturdays the city of Coshocton has been cut off from the outside world. The same condition has prevailed on one or more days each week since Saturday. Trade has been paralyzed. The farmers' products have remained unsold. His perishable goods have spoiled.

Merchants' stocks have remained stationary on their shelves. Nothing has moved. Nothing has been doing. Even the mails have been interfered with. Were it not for the railroads, industry itself would have been paralyzed.

So far as we have been able to ascertain nothing tangible has been suggested as a remedy for an admittedly "rotten state" of affairs. There has been the usual amount of grumbling. Americans are expert at that.

But so far as any tangible effort from any responsible source being made, there is nothing to record. We are today just where we were generations ago. We are at the mercy of the elements. A slight raise in the two rivers has partially paralyzed a rural and urban community of 30,000 souls. Some day something will be done. It will have to be done. The question is will things have to get worse—if possible—before they begin to get better?

It is all right to ascertain the cost of a thing before buying it. But some things are cheap at almost any price. And when it comes to the question of adequate approaches to this city which are absolutely beyond the reach of the highest flood, it might perhaps be better to FIGURE NOT SO MUCH ON WHAT IT WILL COST TO GET IT, BUT WHAT IT HAS COST AND WILL COST IN THE FUTURE TO DO WITH IT.

With the natural resources that Coshocton county possesses, with the wealth that lies in her soil, it would be easily possible to double the size of this city in half a score of years and add one-third to the value of every acre of land in the county.

And it would be possible to do this. It would require the expenditure of a substantial sum of money, the raising of which would be a task of no small magnitude. But it is a task that can be done.

In other words, the Muskingum river will have to be bridged and this county bisected by electric lines. At the same time an era of intelligent road building throughout the county will have to be ushered in. Note we use the term "road building," and not road patching.

It is a task that can be done. The rivers at present seem to be engaged in "rubbing it in" on the faces of us at their mercy, and they seem to enjoy it. We have not merely been defeated, but we apparently admit our defeat. It is rather a humiliating state of affairs to contemplate.

Sherwood Says Union Losses at Gettysburg Broke Records.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Representative Isaac R. Sherwood of Toledo addressed a meeting of Civil War veterans here, held in honor of Colonel John L. Clem, only Union veteran of the Civil War now on the active list of the army.

Sherwood produced a list of war statistics. He said that there were more Union soldiers killed at the battle of Gettysburg than were killed in the war of the Revolution, the Mexican and the Spanish wars combined, and that the Union losses in that battle were greater than Great Britain has suffered in the last 800 years.

REPUBLICANS TO HELP GOVERNOR

Say They Will Not Filibuster on Progressive Bills.

Columbus, O., Jan. 23.—By invitation of the governor, Senator Charles J. Howard of Belmont county, Republican leader in the senate, and Representative Charles A. Keld of Fayette, Republican leader in the house, met with the governor and the Democratic presiding officers of the house and senate, and Representative Robert Black of Hamilton, this morning, to consider the bill of the latter providing for the establishment of a legislative research department at the Ohio State university.

Governor Cox wishes this measure put through as an emergency bill so that the proposed department may be started at once. He assured the Republican floor leaders that there was no politics in the measure and that he did not know the politics of Dr. S. G. Lowrie of the Cincinnati university and Cincinnati municipal research department, who he intends to be at the head of the new department.

The conference was a harmonious one, and the Republican legislators assured the governor that the members of their party would give him the fullest co-operation in his desire to secure the enactment of measures that are for the welfare of the public. There will be no purpose on the part of the minority to indulge in filibustering to place obstacles in the path of good legislation simply because it may be a part of the administration program.

The research department will not be connected with the state university, as at first proposed. At the conference it was decided that it should be operated under the state library commission. Professor Lowrie stated that no one who would be wanted to direct such a department would want to take it as a political job.

Important Cases Argued.

Columbus, O., Jan. 23.—Three important cases were argued in the supreme court today. One is the Toledo case to decide whether or not the new constitution abolishes justices of the peace. Another is the case to determine whether or not the Jefferson county election board, secretary of state and governor were right in refusing to issue a certificate of election to Prosecutor-elect William Brown of Jefferson county, and the other is the motion of George H. Phelps of Findlay, asking for a temporary injunction in trying up the Standard Oil company in Ohio.

Lange Makes Recommendations.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 23.—Girl employees of factories in Ohio are paid wages as low as 15 cents a day, according to the report of Fred Lange, commissioner of state labor statistics. Thousands, he alleges, are laboring in insanitary shops where the state laws are grossly violated. Lange recommends reduction from nine to eight hours as a work day for women and urges a specific law permitting women to be employed only at such work as will not unfit them for motherhood.

Ohio Leads In Colleges.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Ohio and Pennsylvania head the list of states in the number of colleges and universities in their borders with 42 each, according to the report of the United States bureau of education. New York and Illinois come next, with 33; Missouri, 25; Iowa and Tennessee, 27; Virginia, 25; and North Carolina, 22; and Indiana and Kentucky, 21. There are 635 colleges and universities listed in the bureau's directory.

Milton Smith Gets Reprieve.

Columbus, O., Jan. 23.—Governor Cox granted his first reprieve to a condemned prisoner today. It was given to Milton Smith of Gallia county, sentenced to be electrocuted Feb. 7 for first degree murder. The governor reprieves him until March 14 to allow the state pardon board time to dispose of his case.

REMARKABLE RECORD

A man or woman might as well starve outright as to take food into the stomach and not have it assimilated, yet in Coshockton as well as in every other town and city, there are many people who are thin, pale and seem underfed, simply because the food they eat is not assimilated, and fails to make good blood and firm flesh.

Samose, the wonderful flesh-forming food, taken before or after meals, mingles with the food, so that it is assimilated by the system and makes rich blood and pleasing plumpness.

Anyone who is thin, weak, scrawny and emaciated can put 50c on deposit with C. E. Anderson and take home a box of Samose. If the treatment does not give a noticeable increase in good, firm flesh and restore strength and health, he will return the money without any questions.

JUDGE BARHORST DOES HIS DUTY TO Rheumatic Sufferers

If you suffer from Rheumatism and don't read this advice, then the terrible disease may have robbed you of your power to be able to yourself. Read it.

John Barhorst, Justice of the Peace at McLean Township, Ft. Loraine, Ohio, do hereby state after treatment by three doctors without result, I have been cured of a very bad case of Rheumatism by using two bottles of RHEUMA. It is now two years since I used the remedy, and I am still as well as ever. Previous to using RHEUMA I was a cripple, walking with crutches, and I feel it my duty to let other sufferers from Rheumatism know what it will do. I have advised RHEUMA to eat at least a dozen persons, and each one speaks as highly of it as I. I will answer any one suffering from the disease if a two-cent stamp is enclosed. May 31, 1912.

You can secure a bottle of RHEUMA for only 50 cents at C. E. Anderson's and he says if not as advertised, money back. It is just as good for Gout, Arthritis, Lumbago and Sciatica.

West Virginia collieries in producing and shipping coal to the big markets and therefore it will mean that many mines of this section will be forced to close down.

The Resolutions

WHEREAS, There has been brought to the attention of the Coshocton Board of Trade by the coal operators of this county, Senate Bill No. 23, providing for the so-called "Anti-Screen or Run-of-Mine Law," and that after careful investigation and consideration, we deem it inimitable to the best public interests of our community, and

WHEREAS, The coal companies operating in this county distribute in wages three-quarters of a million dollars annually, and being led to believe that this would be reduced fully one-half if this measure should become a law, we feel that it would be a serious blow to Coshocton coal operators, and miners, as well as all other business interests, and

WHEREAS, The adoption of proposed Mine Run System would be in direct opposition to the written opinion of Prof. Edward Orton, one of the country's best known geologists, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED: That the Coshocton Board of Trade request and urge our representatives in the present General Assembly and the Senator from the 18-19 Senatorial District to use their influence and vote against Senate Bill No. 23 herein referred to, also.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That copies of this Resolution be given to all the Coshocton papers and also forwarded to our Senator and Representative.

Four Extremes.

The coldest place on earth inhabited by man is Verkhoyansk, above the arctic circle, in northeastern Siberia. The thermometer there drops to 90 degrees below zero in January, but sometimes rises to 80 degrees above zero in the shade in July, dropping, however, to the freezing point on the warmest summer nights. The hottest place in the world is the interior of the great Sahara desert, in Africa, where the thermometer rises to 122 degrees. The wettest place is Greytown, Nicaragua, where the mean annual rainfall is 200 inches. The place of least rain is Port Nolloth, in South Africa, where less than an inch sometimes falls in a year.

EGGS AND CHICKENS

A White Leghorn pullet that laid her first egg 4 months and 14 days from date of hatching. The result of selection and breeding.

How doth the little busy hen improve these winter days? By laying eggs at thirty cents; and that's when poultry pays.

Some of you have been reaping the profits this winter, some didn't get ready for it. Now is the time to prepare for the new sheds, and to look for better birds for the spring hatch.

Say Sulzer Is Perturbed.
New York, Jan. 23.—Governor Sulzer, according to New York City Democrats who returned from Albany, where they discussed subway matters with the governor, is in a deeply agitated frame of mind. The basis for this agitation and this anxiety, in the estimation of these New York city Democrats, is the governor's desire to succeed himself as chief executive at Albany two years hence, and eventually in 1916, to be the candidate of the Democrats for the presidential nomination. It is these high ambitions which are playing a potential, if not altogether absorbing, feature in the selection of a public service commissioner to succeed William R. Wilcox, whose term expires Feb. 1, according to these Democrats.

The STOLEN SINGER

by MARTNA DELLINGER

COPYRIGHT 1911 THE DOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY

"Pardon me," he said finally in his precise drawl, "but I confess to being startled. You—you bear such an extraordinary resemblance to some one I know, that I thought it must really be she, for a moment."

Agatha smiled faintly. "You looked as if you had seen a ghost."

Aleck gazed at her again, a long, scrutinizing look. "It does make one feel queer, you know."

"But now that you are assured that I'm not a ghost, will you sit down? That chair by the window, please. And I can't tell you how glad I am to see you; for James Hamilton, your cousin, if he is your cousin, is here in this house, and he is ill—very ill indeed."

Aleck's nonchalance had already disappeared in the series of surprises; but at Agatha's words a flush of pleasure and relief overspread his face. He strode quickly over toward Agatha's couch.

"Oh, I say—old Jim—I thought, I was afraid—"

Agatha was touched by the evidences of his emotion, and her voice became very gentle. "I fancy it is the same—James Hamilton of Lynn?"

Aleck nodded and she went on: "That's what he told me, the night we were wrecked."

Agatha looked at Aleck, as if she would discover whether he were trustworthy or not, before giving him more of her story. Presently she continued:

"He's a very brave, a very wonderful man. He jumped overboard to save me, after I fell from the ladder; and then they left us and we swam ashore. But long before we got there I fainted, and he brought me in, all the way, though he was nearly dead of exhaustion himself. He had hemorrhage from overexertion, and afterward a chill. And now there is fever."

Agatha's voice was trembling. Aleck watched her as she told her tale, the flush of happiness and joy still lighting up his face. As she finished relating the meager facts which to her denoted so many heart-throbs, a sob drowned her voice. As Aleck followed the story, his own eyes wavered.

"That's Jim, down to the ground. Good old boy!" he said.

There was a silence for a minute, then he heard Agatha's voice, grown little and faint. "If he should die—!"

Aleck, still standing by Agatha's couch, suddenly shook himself.

"Where is he? Can I see him now?"

Agatha got up slowly and led the way down the hall, pointing to a door that stood ajar. It was evident that she was weak.

"I can't go in—I can't bear to see him so ill," she whispered; and as Aleck looked at her before entering the sick-room, he saw that her eyes were filled with tears.

Agatha went back to her couch, feeling that the heavens had opened. Here was a friend come to her from she knew not where, whose right it was to assume responsibility for the sick man. He was kind and good, and he loved her rescuer with the boyish devotion of their school-days. He would surely help; he would work with her to keep death away. What, over love and professional skill, could, should be done; there had been no question as to that, of course, from the beginning. But here was some one who would double, yes, more than double her own efforts; some one who was strong and well and capable. Her heart was thankful.

Before Aleck returned from the sick-room, Doctor Thayer's step sounded on the stairs, followed by the mildly complaining voice of Sallie Kingsbury. Presently the two men were in a low-voiced conference in the hall. Agatha waited while they talked, feeling grateful afresh that Doctor Thayer's grim professional wisdom was to be reinforced by Mr. Van Camp's resources. When the doctor entered Agatha's room, her face had almost the natural flush of health.

"Ah, Miss Agatha Redmond!" the doctor continued frequently to address her by her full name, half in affectionate deference and half with some dry sense of humor peculiar to himself—"Miss Agatha Redmond, so you're beginning to pick up! A good thing, too; for I don't want two patients in one house like the one out yonder. He's a very sick man, Miss Agatha."

"I know, doctor. I have seen him grow worse, hour by hour, even since we came. What can be done?"

"He needs special nursing now, and your man in there will be worn out presently."

"Oh, that can be managed. Send to Portland, to Boston, or somewhere. We can get

In the alimony suit of Ella V. North vs. William J. North, the defendant, through his attorney, J. C. Adams filed answer in probate court Thursday. After admitting the details of their marriage, etc., as appearing in the plaintiff's petition, the defendant alleges that their separation was due wholly to misconduct on the part of the wife, who, he claims, has neglected her marital duties for a number of years, has treated him with contempt, found fault and was continually nagging, quarreling and abusing him without reason.

He alleges further that the plaintiff has a violent temper, has refused to prepare meals for him and that during December, 1912 she met him at the door and ordered him to leave home and remain away. The plaintiff asks that the petition be dismissed.

NOT SALTS AND PILLS. "CASCARETS"

If Constipated, Bilious, Headachy, Stomach Sour, get a 10 cent box of Cascarets.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have back-ache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet: liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

The Great Pauline the man who wiggles out of straight jackets, handcuffs and escapes from jails will give a performance at the Sixth Street Theatre Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening of this week.

He has appeared in all the big time vaudeville throughout the country and has never failed to completely mystify and captivate his large audiences in presenting his marvelous feats. Pauline is a young man but proves he is old in experience and Manager Gail Hamilton is especially fortunate in securing him for three performances.

In connection with his act is Miss Kitty Garford, a petite comedienne, in a singing and talking act featuring Irish melodies. Miss Garford has a sweet contralto voice and impersonates Chauncey Alcott in his beautiful songs.

Pennsy to Safeguard
Employees

"The daily life of railway men is surrounded with unusual hazards. Long acquaintance with them has made these hazards seem but a part of the day's work. Analysis of causes of injury, however, shows that by far the larger percentage could be prevented if all employees were always on the alert to insure absolute safety in every operation."

The above quotation contains the text for a booklet which the Pennsylvania Lines are shortly to place in the hands of every one of their $5,000 employees. The Lines of the Pennsylvania System have determined to redouble their efforts to insure to their employees social justice, healthful surroundings in their work and every safeguard against danger.

CANTON POLICE
CHIEF ON TRIAL

Canton, O., Jan. 23.—The trial before the civil service commission of Chief of Police William L. Smith on 14 charges preferred against him by Mayor H. S. Schilling, began today with the testimony of a number of witnesses, who declared they had seen the chief intoxicated on a number of occasions. Police Captain R. F. Patterson, among others, offered testimony to this effect.

Fanny Schmidt, keeper of an alleged disorderly house, testified that she had paid Smith $25 a month for the last five years "for protection." Part of these payments were made at Smith's office she said.

Attorney Luther Day of Smith's counsel, stamped the attack on the police chief as a political move on the part of the mayor. "Schilling suspended Smith an hour after he took office," he said. "He could not possibly have tried to determine the facts in the case before he took action."
